

Theory of Action

Given our unique context, the District believes empowering local school communities will best serve FCS students.

Our schools have diverse challenges

Programs customized to unique needs of FCS students

Decisions made as close to students as possible

Local school autonomy

Increased school decision-making will provide a stable, long-term framework for improving student achievement.