Happy Holidays - See you on January 5, 2012

Message from the Principal

Our Community Coffee turned out ~35 parents from our feeder elementary school and a handful of parents who currently have children at our school. The 8th grade ambassadors provided a tour to our families and Mrs. Martinez and I answered questions for our incoming families. This was a great event for our families to get to know our school and meet each other. We will hold another Community Coffee for our feeder elementary parents in the fall. This week we also hosted our Winter Band concert. The band is so large that the set-up spanned the width of our gym. The program has been growing and the students sounded fabulous. Thank you to Dr. Chang and her leadership in setting a solid foundation for our Haynes Bridge musicians.

In order to stay healthy, we must keep a balance of happiness in both our personal and our professional lives. In order to be happy in your personal life, think about four major things that need to be in place for you. Now think about your professional life and think about four major things that need to be in place for you to be happy. Going into the 2012, what do you need to do to ensure you are balancing placing these things in place for your personal and your professional lives? Take time over the holiday to plan for your happiness in 2012.

See you next year!

Social Studies Fair Results

Congratulations to the winners of the 2011 Haynes Bridge social Studies Fair. Third place went to Michelle Manganiello for her project on pollution in Asia. Second place went to Kaylin Berinhout for her project on sports in Saudi Arabia. First place went to Alyssa Johnson for her project on the impact of Great White Shark attacks on South African beaches. Alyssa will be continuing on to the county Social Studies Fair.

Annual Tradition of Thanks

Each year, Haynes Bridge takes the opportunity to extend our hearts to those who work so hard behind the scenes. We want to thank those that work so diligently for all of us: our cafeteria and custodial staff. If you would like to participate in our annual tradition, you may send in a monetary donation with your student to be given to his/her TEAM time teacher. All donations will then be quietly brought to the front office. Please make checks payable to Haynes Bridge Middle School.

Eagles Angels

The Reach Out Committee would like to thank all of the Eagle's Angels that participated in the Holiday Gift Card Drive. We were able to meet our goal and have a few cards leftover for any situations that may pop up where assistance for our families is needed. Thank you to the parents, students and staff who played a huge part in making this all happen for us. We wish everyone a very happy holiday season!

Kids Dental Day
