

Hello Johns Creek High School Orchestra,

January 20, 2012

Thank you for applying to the National Cherry Blossom Festival Cultural Performance Stage at Sylvan Theater.

The 2012 National Cherry Blossom Festival Centennial Celebrations will occur Thursday, March 15 - Sunday, April 27, 2012. The Sylvan Theater performances will be March 31- April 15, 2012.

The festival received the most applications to perform than any year prior for our Centennial Celebration... The growing interest to perform is exciting for the DC and great testimony that the festival has grown relationships with talent new to us and those that have supported the festival again and again. We gathered a selection committee across all genres and thank you for your patience in getting back to you. Performance reviews for the 2012 – The Centennial Year, has been a huge undertaking this year! After reviewing your application, performance samples, photos, and/or music clips, and/or availability, the selection committee chose your performance for the 2012 National Cherry Blossom Festival Cultural Performance Stage at Sylvan Theater.

From your stated availability, we are now working on performance slot times, and will follow-up with you to confirm your performance time by late February. If your availability has altered from your application submission, please alert Sue Murphy, at sue@downtowndc.org

Congratulations, and I hope you will bring your friends and family to National Cherry Blossom Festival events, as you'll have 5 weeks to enjoy the festivities; with the Parade on April 14th on Constitution Ave.

Best regards,

Alissa Greer

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Alissa Greer". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first and last letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

Special Events Manager
National Cherry Blossom Festival