

Consider Teaching this Summer with

Fulton Virtual
Your Choice | Your Path | Your Future

Looking for some work this summer? Want to learn more about the growing field of online learning and competency-based learning? Consider joining the FVS adjunct faculty for this summer!

We're a competency-based, online program whose instructional model is to keep the interaction between student and teacher at the center of what we do. Many teachers have joined us over the summer and found the experience to be beneficial both professionally and financially. As our enrollments grow, we are in search of more adjunct teachers from FCS's already talented and energetic pool of face-to-face classroom teachers. Here are the details about our upcoming Summer 2021 term.

When? The term runs from June 2nd-July 14th. Here are some important dates during the term:

May 28th: New Online Teacher Orientation (Required for New Adjuncts Only; Microsoft Teams)

June 1st: FVS Summer Term Pre-planning (Microsoft Teams)

June 2nd: Summer Session Startup – Teachers Work Remotely

June 3rd: Optional Second Day Summer Session startup

July 14th: Last Day For Students

July 15th: Teachers Post Final Grades in Infinite Campus

Where? Teachers work remotely for all days. Teachers must attend virtual summer pre-planning on June 1st, and the summer kick-off June 2nd to participate in the summer term. We will send a calendar invite for each day closer to the events.

What will you be doing? You will guide students through online courses, establishing individual relationships with each of your students. In addition, you'll grade their assignments and provide support to those who need it.

Additional Information:

There will be completion benchmarks that students must meet to continue in their summer course. If a student does not make the required progress they will be administratively withdrawn.

1. 33% by 6/16
2. 50% by 6/23
3. 67% by 6/30

An Online Adjunct Training Module will be completed by all teachers prior to the summer session. The training module is designed to help with each aspect of online learning from progress monitoring to using the SIS and LMS to providing robust feedback that is effective in an online course.

The compensation model for teachers is based on course completion.

- Teachers receive $130 when a student successfully completes a semester course or $260 for a full credit AB course.
- If a student does not finish a course, the teacher receives the fraction of the $130 (or $260) that corresponds to the amount of the content the student completed. (for example, if a student finished 25% of a course before they dropped, the teacher will receive $.25 * 130 = $32.50$ for their work with that student.)
