

Northeast Learning Community STUDENT ACHIEVEMENT

Fulton
County Schools
Where Students Come First

North Fulton Schools are training students for success. From elementary schools to high schools, the achievements of students, faculty and staff signal communities where learning is valued and accessible.

Highlights

Centennial High School is a certified International Baccalaureate (IB) school. IB Diploma schools offer core curriculum classes in theory of knowledge, creativity, activity, and service, and require students who choose to participate to complete an essay, or a research or service project. Participation requires good disciplinary and academic records, as well as teacher recommendations. The worldview focus of an IB diploma has been shown to boost college acceptance by 22 percent.

Northview High School was highly ranked by a nationwide survey website: it was listed second of the Best Public High Schools in Georgia, and number 91 on the list of Best Public High Schools in the U.S. Northview High got high marks in academics, college prep, health & safety, diversity, and teachers. Reviews pulled from Niche surveys comment on Northview High School's variety of academics and resources and the dedication of teachers and staff.

The 2019 Georgia Teacher of the Year is from NELC's Barnwell Elementary. Allison Townsend, third grade teacher, strives to give each child a voice in their learning, and inspire them to grow beyond "engagement" to "ownership." She believes all children start out as curious and excited learners, and that her goal as an educator should be to nurture their passion for learning.

Highlights

The River Trail Middle School orchestra was invited to play at New York City's legendary Carnegie Hall. The orchestra's participation in the Carnegie Hall Band and Orchestra Performance Festival came with rehearsal time, sightseeing excursions, and a Broadway show!
