

WHAT ARE RIDGEVIEW COMMUNITY CHAMPIONS?

Ridgeview Charter Middle School's Community Champions are strategic partners in education committed to supporting and sustaining student achievement. These external organizations serve as volunteers who donate time, energy, or talent to support the school or they serve donors who donate money or material/resources to support our students.

Our proud Community Champions raise awareness of their businesses while building goodwill within our community. These impactful relationships are vital as our students work toward meeting and exceeding our school's ambitious goals.

Community Champions who choose to contribute financially are supporting Ridgeview's local school fund. Our local school funds academic projects to enhance our students' knowledge and skill sets beyond the traditional classroom. Community Champions who choose to serve as volunteers are supporting the enhancement of College and Career Readiness programs amongst middle school students.
