Community College which is also known as junior college or two yr college, has historically served the purpose of providing remediation for students who are preparing to eventually attend a traditional 4yr college. Community colleges generally do not provide on-campus housing (few do) but may have athletic teams for students to participate in. Students who complete two years of Community College can be eligible to transfer to a 4yr college.

Thinking of how to pay for college can be overwhelming. It is important that families are familiar with the types of available financial aid. Seniors planning to attend college will be required to complete the Free Application for Student Aid which opens October 1. This application collects financial information that is reviewed to determine the amount of college costs that will be covered by grants and scholarships and how much will need to be covered by the student's family.

Types of aid consist of:

- Grants
- Scholarships
- Work-Study Jobs
- Loans

GAP YEAR

A GAP Year is a period in which recent graduates take a yearlong break to engage in other educational and/or meaningful experiences or activities such as:

- Experiencing new cultures through travel.
- Joining the Peace Corps or other service/volunteer programs.
- Participating in a Gap Year Program such as college bridge year programs.

A Gap Year should not be seen as a period in which a student does nothing. Students should intentionally plan for their Gap Year and seek out opportunities that will add to their personal and or educational development and growth. Students who take a GAP year can still apply to college and defer their admissions.
