

Parent Connectors

Our Mission

Building connections with new parents when they join the Cambridge High School community and helping all parents successfully navigate school issues and concerns to support their student's academic and social success.

What is a Parent Connector?

- Parent Connectors are third-party, neutral volunteers who support fellow parents who have questions or concerns about the school or our community.
- Our goal is to connect parents to community resources and support parent-school collaboration by providing information and sharing our experience
- Fellow parents who have experience in the PTSA, School Governance Council (SGC), or who just know the Cambridge community.

What can a Parent Connector do for you?

- Do you have a question about the school and don't know who to ask?
- New to town or new to Cambridge?
- Wondering about activities or athletics at Cambridge?
- Wondering about resources in town?
- Concerned about your student's academic, social skills, or other school issues?
- Unsure about Cambridge's policies or procedures?
- Want to get involved in the Cambridge community? (volunteering, PTSA, Cambridge Athletic Association, SGC)
