You may access help for signing in to and signing up for a College Board Account by visiting <https://pages.collegeboard.org/account-help>

Establishing your account

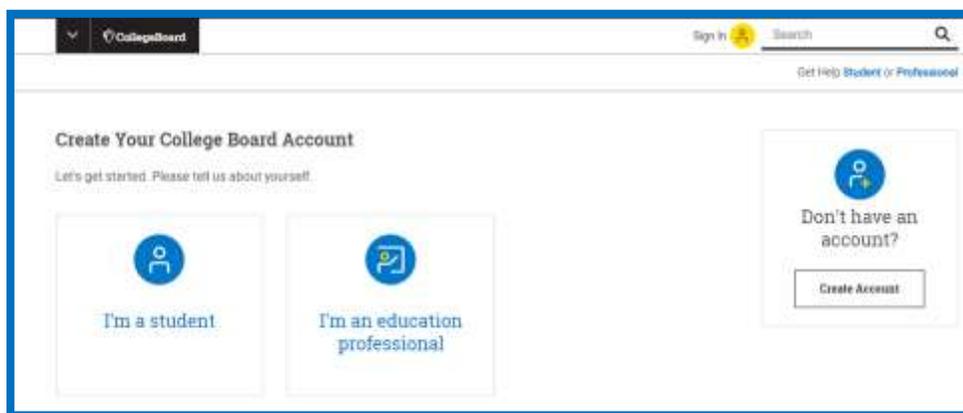

Go to collegeboard.org and click on the “sign in” button at the top of the page:

If you already have an account, please sign-in using the login box on the left. As a reminder, your username is not an Email address. If you have forgotten your username or password, click the link to reset.

If you already have an account but you cannot remember your information or no longer have access to the Email address associated with your account, do not create a new one. Call customer service at 866-315-6068.

If not, please click on the “Don’t have an account? Sign Up” link in the box on the right. It will take you to this page. Click on “I’m a student” on the left side of the page:

When identifying your school, be sure to use the zip code to help find your accurate school – there are sometimes more than one school that share a name. You want to be sure to choose the correct one or it can cause problems later.

You'll now create a username and password that you'll use for all College Board logins (including AP Classroom). Your username is not your Email address, so make sure that it's something that you remember.

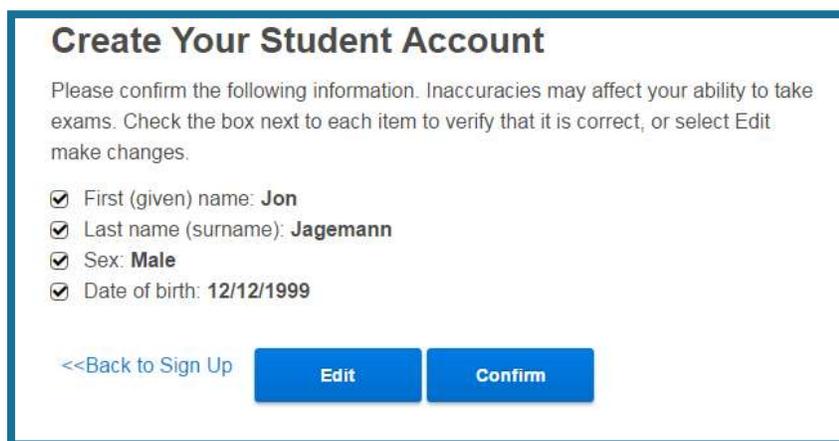

It's important for you to choose a security question that you will remember in case you ever need to recover or reset your username or password. If you can't answer your security question, we'll send a temporary password to the Email address we have on file.

The screenshot shows a registration form titled "Username and Password". It contains the following fields: "Username:" (text input), "Password:" (text input), "Confirm password:" (text input), "Choose security question:" (dropdown menu with "Choose Security Question" selected), and "Answer:" (text input).
