Weekly News & Notes

November 10, 2020

Greetings Hornets,

I hope everybody had a great weekend.

We have entered the final six weeks of the semester. If you have not done so, please make sure to check your student's current grades. The 12-Week progress reports should be visible in Infinite Campus tomorrow.

Please take note of any "I" or "Incompletes" noted in the gradebook. If your student has an "Incomplete" or "I", this means that the assignment is currently not factored into your student's grade. Students must complete 10 out of 12 summative assignments to pass. Failure to complete the required number of summative grades would result in an Incomplete for the course. The result would be that a student would not receive numeric credit.

Please also keep in mind that the District's updated grading policy states that student redo/retakes must be completed 10 school days prior to the end of the semester. Consequently, that the last day redo/retakes can be submitted is Friday, December 4, 2020.

National School Psychologist Week

week

(Image from nysut.org)

This is National School Psychologist Week. Roswell is fortunate to be served by Andy Underwood who is our school psychologist. Mr. Underwood is an important part of our team as we try to help all students achieve their full potential. Mr. Underwood asked that I share the information below.

Hi Roswell High School!

This week is National School Psychology Week (November 9th-13th)! During this week, schools throughout the United States will celebrate and highlight the important work that school psychologists do to help students thrive. I am excited to tell you a little about myself and what school psychologists do!

School psychologists are uniquely qualified members of school teams that support students' ability to learn and teachers' ability to teach. We apply our expertise in mental health, learning, and behavior to help students succeed academically, socially, behaviorally, and emotionally. School Psychologist's partner with families, teachers, school administrators, and other professionals to create safe, healthy, and supportive learning environments that strengthen connections between home, school, and the community.

I have been working with Fulton County Schools since 2004 and I am excited to a part of this amazing team at Roswell High for by second year. After graduating from Northern Arizona University in Flag Staff, Arizona, I began my career as a school Psychologist working for Peoria Unified School District just outside of Phoenix Arizona. My professional skills and interests are around managing difficult behaviors, managing crisis, and mental health! I have a lot of experience working with students with Specific Learning Disabilities, Autism, Emotional and Behavioral Disorders, and ADHD.

This year's theme for School Psychology week is "The Power of Possibility". The word "possibility" implies hope, growth, resilience, and renewal. Possibility suggests that even something as small as a seed can grow into something magnificent. The word "power" implies that things can and will happen. When we focus on what is possible, we have hope that students will grow, thrive, and bloom! As we all navigate life through the unprecedented times, I hope that we can all cultivate hope and possibility for ourselves and our students.

College Board National Recognition

Congratulations to Roswell student Jordan Freeman. Jordan was named by the College Board as a 2020-2021 African-American Scholar. The recognition, according to the College Board, was earned based on Jordan's "remarkable academic achievements and outstanding performance on the PSAT." Congratulations Jordan! We are all very proud of you.

Celebration Conference

Last week on Election Day, the District hosted a virtual conference where, among other things, teachers could hear from other teacher-leaders in Fulton County School to learn more about teaching and learning during these unprecedented times. Two Roswell staff members served on various discussion panels. Congratulations to Michal Holby and Susan Pappas and thanks for representing our school so well.

Staff of Excellence Award

Congratulations to Nancy Moeller for being recognized with the September Staff of Excellence Award. Thanks to Teacher of the Year Rebecca Glover for making sure this important and valued recognition continues. Great job Nancy and thanks for all you do.
