

Dear River Trail Parents,

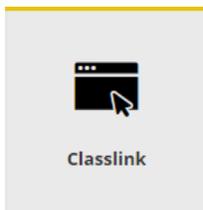

Have you been wondering how you can support your student's learning at home? Have you been concerned that your student has gaps in learning due to the pandemic? Would you like for your student to preview content before it is introduced in class? i-Ready is a great place to start to support learning in the areas of Reading and Math. Lessons are personalized to your student's individual learning level. The platform uses the diagnostic data to find a student's strengths and areas for growth and assigns them a lesson pathway to help them move forward. RTMS administered the diagnostic for Reading and Math to all students in August. i-Ready also provides many helpful resources to guide parents in supporting their student's learning. See below for some helpful resources to get things started.

It is important to remember that the research shows the most growth when a student spends at least 45 minutes a week working on lessons (in each subject) and maintains a 70% or higher pass rate as lessons are completed. For this reason, parents should encourage students to take each lesson and quiz seriously.

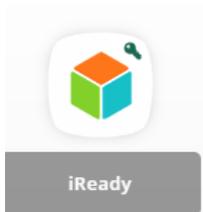

1. How does my student log into i-Ready and how do I see their progress?

Go to: <https://www.fultonschools.org/rivertrailms>

Select Classlink:

In Classlink, Select the i-Ready app:

Choose Math OR Reading

Select To Do: to see available lessons

Select My Progress: to see Time-on-Task and Lessons Passed

Time on Task: Number of minutes working on lessons for the week. The week runs Monday-Sunday.

Lessons Passed: Number of lessons passed during the school year.

2. Watch this quick video to get familiar with i-Ready and learn how you can support your student: <https://i-readycentral.com/view-resource/?id=37384>

3. Review this FAQ for any questions you have: <https://i-readycentral.com/familycenter/fags/>

We are excited to partner with parents this year to make the most of our resources to increase student achievement.

Feel free to reach out to your child's Math or ELA teacher or myself with any questions you have about i-Ready.

Thank you!
