April 2, 2020

Greetings Wolf Creek Family,

I hope all is well with each of you. As we all know and feel by now, these are uncertain and unprecedented times. During this time, we, as a community have come together and leaned on one another to ensure that our students, staff and parents are being taken care of. There are many great inspiring stories floating about that highlight our humanity as a collective community and nation. While understanding that this is the new norm and things will be different and may not work the correct way the first time, it has been amazing to see the compassion and empathy expressed within our community and throughout the state and country. I encourage each of us to be open to change, slow to criticize and brave enough to make suggestions, share ideas and ask for help. We are in this together and we will get through this.

As of April 1, 2020, during an afternoon press conference, Governor Kemp announced that all school systems in Georgia will remain closed for in-person education through the end of the 2019-2020 school year; however, remote learning will continue. We are prepared as a school district and as a local school to manage the remote learning sessions for the remainder of the year. Teachers and staff members are saddened by this news, however, we understand the magnitude of the need for all of us to be safe and stay healthy during this time. We miss the students and we know they miss school. We are going to make every effort to ensure that the TeleSchool experience is as seamless as possible. Teachers will continue to instruct students virtually and provide support as needed for the remainder of the year.

We understand that this announcement impacts many of our end of the year activities. I’m sure teachers will continue coming up with creative ways to celebrate this school year and the many successes with their students and families. Stay tuned for more information.

As we move into Spring Break, please take a moment to log off, take a breath and relax. This was a sudden change and we all jumped in head-first to accomplish the tasks before us. Every stakeholder: students, staff and parents have done a phenomenal job and you deserve a break. Enjoy this time with family. Renew and get rejuvenated for the long haul through the end of the year.

Again, we are in this together! We can do this! We will continue to Build Pathways To Success for our students! Thanks for all you to support Wolf Creek. You ROCK!

Sincerely,

Principal Dionne C. Glass
