Media Advisory

Fulton County Schools students to be recognized for entering workforce or committing to education careers in first Career Pathways Signing Day, May 9

- Who: Approximately 25 Fulton County Schools (FCS) seniors who have taken Career, Technical and Agricultural Education (CTAE) pathway coursework. Parents are invited.
- What: Fulton County Schools is hosting its first Career Pathways Signing Day, a celebration of students who are entering the workforce following high school or committing to an education degree in college to become teachers. Students will sign letters of intent for careers in specific industries following high school and college. The keynote speaker will be community leader Rodney Sampson, Nonresident Senior Fellow of the Metropolitan Policy Program.
- Why: CTAE programs and pathways allow students to apply mathematics, science and communication competencies in laboratory and occupational settings that develop specific technical skills applicable in broad concentration areas. Career Pathways consist of apprenticeship, construction and film, and students entering the teaching profession after college.
- FCS will celebrate these students and the successful completion of their CTAE coursework that has set them up for success in their post-high school path.
- When: Thursday, May, 9, 2019
10 a.m.
- Where: South Learning Center
4025 Flat Shoals Road
Union City, Ga. 30291
RSVP: community@fultonschools.org

Media is invited
